

Not only Venice!

Padua is one of the special historical cities in Italy. The cradle of University and trade, that has always has a detailed attention to art, culture and science. A city to discover by walking or by bicycle, taking it slowly. A city that brings together many unknown attractions that will take your breath away. A two day programme will be enough to really get to know the city.

Did you know that Prosecco is produced in the surrounding area of Padua?
A great day out is taking a drive around the many producers and wineries.
Learn how to make a Spritz like a pro!

How about a relaxing cruise down the river Brenta, admiring the Palladian villas with a private guide that will take you back in time, telling you all about the history of each residence. After passing through the antique locks and sailing down the river, just stopping for a picnic or buffet lunch, you can end this incredible day trip in the magical city of Venice that is the end of the route where the Brenta meets the Venice lagoon.
